The Sale of Dance and Evening Dresses
at the Special
Price of $16.95

ONE of the very best opportunities we have ever presented for the purchase of a Stylish, New, Attractive, and Refined Evening Dress at a low price.

They are especially desirable for late season wear, for dances and other functions. Made in three choice, new styles, each one effective and much superior to the usual ones obtainable at this low price.

The quality of the materials, too, is better.

Taffeta and charmeuse silks are used in charming soft weaves, and the bodices are of pretty shadow laces in neat designs, beautifully arranged with simplicity and tastefulness. Double flounces of plain silk, edged with fur, or Dresden silk edged with fur.

Another model is of crepe meteor silk, with gold brocaded chiffon tunic, edged with black or white shadow lace and coney fur, the bodice being formed of shadow lace.

We have conservatively stated the actual value of these dresses at $25.00, but we feel sure that it will be difficult to find their equal even at that price.

Special at $16.95 each.

Mrs. Ten Eyck Wendell's drawing-rooms were filled yesterday morning with a most distinguished company to hear Mrs. Vance Cheney give an address on "The Purpose of Human Life," or suggestions for drill in mental and physical relaxation.

Among her audience were Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President; Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, the wives of the Cabinet officers, Mrs. James Pinchot, Mrs. Charles Boughton, Mrs. A. T. Britton, Mrs. William H. Elkins, and Rev. and Mrs. Charles Wood.

Carrington-Moore

A simple but beautiful wedding was celebrated last night when Miss Ruth Carrington-Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson Moore, and Mr. Edmund Carrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Carrington, were married at the bride's residence.

The bride was given away by her father after being preceded by her sister, Miss Doris Moore, who acted as maid of honor. The bride's gown was of white brocade, trimmed with duchess lace and green pearls, and caught with orange blossoms. Her tulle veil was also wreathed with orange blossoms, which contrasted beautifully with the shower bouquet of orchids, which she carried.

Miss Doris Moore was crowned in pale gold tulle under a cloud of gold with gold lace ruffles and chignon, and carried a bouquet of orchids. The bride's mother was crowned in ivory tulle, draped with black lace and green pearls, and caught with orange blossoms. Her tulle veil was also wreathed with orange blossoms, which contrasted beautifully with the shower bouquet of orchids, which she carried.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Frank J. Bannan, of Georgetown, Pa., as best man. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and bridegroom received the congratulations of their relatives and friends and then a buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrington departed later for the North on their honeymoon trip. The bride's going away gown was a tailored blue serge with a smart black hat and black fox fur. They left at home at the Chalfonte after March 1.

Florence Crittenton Mission.

For the purpose of furnishing the dining-room of the Florence Crittenton Mission, a silver tea will be held in the parlors of the Wyoming Wednesday afternoon, February 4, from 4 until 6 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

The affair is given by the Florence Crittenton branch of the Washington Sunshine and Community Society, of which branch Mrs. W. H. Howard is president. In the receiving line will be

Mrs. John Bankhead, of Alabama; Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida; Mrs. William H. Thompson, of Kansas; Mrs. Dudley Hughes, of Georgia; Mrs. H. C. Claypoole, of Ohio; Mrs. Ella S. Knight, president of the Sunshine Society; Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Robert F. Rose, Mrs. Ellis Logan, and Mrs. J. Edison Briggs.

MRS. H. B. WHITMORE DIES.

Prominent District Resident Succumbs to Bright's Disease.
Mrs. Henrietta Burton Whitmore, of 125 Fifteenth street northwest, wife of J. Lee Whitmore, died of Bright's disease at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Whitmore was the daughter of Darius and Mary E. Burton, of Kent County, Md. Her father died many years ago, and subsequently her mother married Dr. J. L. Duane, both of whom at present reside at 221 S. street northwest. Mrs. Whitmore has been a sufferer for years with nervous troubles and a complication of disorders, which finally culminated in Bright's disease. She is survived by one son, who is serving at present with the Twenty-third Infantry, stationed at Texas City, Tex., and her mother, Mrs. J. L. Duane, who was the daughter of the late Charles R. Edmonston.

Burial will take place Saturday, but arrangements for the funeral services have not been completed.
